

The factors that restrict the availability of water on different scales.

How weather and climate can lead to water deficits.

The economic reasons for water scarcity.

How the supply of water has changed in developing and emerging countries in the last 50 years.

How the demand for water has changed in developing and emerging countries in the last 50 years.

How the supply of water has changed in developed countries in the last 50 years.

How the demand for water has changed in developed countries in the last 50 years.

How water is used by agriculture, industry and domestically in developed countries.